Today, preoperative evaluation and preoperative oral care by dentists, etc. can be carried out in cooperation with nurses at medical institutions within the scope of medical insurance in Japan. The perioperative oral function management fee and the perioperative oral function management plan formulation fee reflect this background. But, this is not in the case, if you were hospitalized in emergency situation or have an emergency operation.

In case of hospital without dental facility, oral examination is carried out at nearby or affiliated dental medical institution or
