

Introduction

Paediatric palliative care is a multidisciplinary approach to the care of children and young people with life-limiting or life-threatening conditions. It aims to provide relief from suffering and support for the child and their family. The role of paediatric palliative care workers is to provide emotional, psychological, and spiritual support to the child and their family, and to coordinate care across different services.

the role of paediatric palliative care workers

Paediatric palliative care workers play a crucial role in providing support to children and young people with life-limiting or life-threatening conditions. They work in a multidisciplinary team, providing emotional, psychological, and spiritual support to the child and their family. They also coordinate care across different services, ensuring that the child and their family receive the best possible care.
